

Airline Contact Information

The ability to ship human remains via air during the COVID-19 pandemic can be problematic. Many airlines have greatly reduced flight options, while other have stopped shipping human remains cargo completely. It is important to note that each airline is making its own decision and those decisions are changing frequently. For the latest information, NFDA recommends checking with your human remains shipping provider for daily updates.

Also, please visit the “Deaths Overseas and Ship Outs” page on NFDA’s COVID-19 information hub, www.nfda.org/covid19.
